Bomb Explodes in Ware-

Buildings in England Heavily Guarded—Armed Boats
Patrol the Thames.

BELFAST, Nov. 30.—The city hall at Cork was set on fire this morning and reports from that city state the Thomas Ashe Sinn Fein Club and the Charlotte quay are ablaze. Much damage has been done, it is stated.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS IN ENGLISH CITIES CLOSELY GUARDED

Armed Motor Boats Patrol the Thames—Bomb Explodes in London Warehouse.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Public buildings in London and in many of the other large cities of England were closely guarded against apprehended Sinn Fein attacks by heavy detachments of police and detectives last night. In this city the patrol was not limited to streets, but armed motor boats moved up and down the Thames in front of Parliament buildings. With Downing street and its immediate neighborhood shut off from the rest of the city by a high fence, which was constantly under the eyes of uniformed men, and with the Parliament buildings sentinelled, Government sections of London today assumed the atmosphere of an armed camp.

There is nothing to connect the Sinn Fein with the explosion of a bomb in a warehouse in Old Swan Lane, this city, early this morning, but the people of the city ascribed it to that organization. The bomb, which apparently was carried into the warehouse in a traveling bag and left there to explode by means of a time fuse, was heard over a wide area of the city and blew out the windows of buildings nearby. It started a fire, but the police and firemen, who were on the scene almost immediately, succeeded in extinguishing the flames before they gained headway. The street where the warehouse is situated has been closed by the police. It is a narrow thoroughfare near London Bridge and contains no dwelling houses.

Experts from Scotland Yard examined the building today, nobody being permitted to enter the offices on the upper floors. It seemed evident the damage from the fire was slight. Several firms, shipping agents and manufacturers used the building.

Several men suspected of setting fire to warehouses in Liverpool on Saturday night are under arrest, it is claimed by the police that American "gunmen" are in that city, and assertion is made that men wanted in Ireland for shooting policemen and soldiers have crossed the Irish Sea to Liverpool. The financial loss caused by Saturday night's fire in Liverpool is estimated at a million pounds sterling.

Glasgow and the Clyde shipbuilding district have been placed under close guard, and it is declared by the authorities that many Sinn Feiners are known to be in Scotland. The public will not only be excluded from the galleries of the House of Commons, but denied admission to the inner precincts of the house. Members of the Commons will be able to interview their constituents having business in the house who are unknown to the police will be searched. Motor traffic into the palace yard also will be subject to special observation. The House of Lords has adopted precautions similar to the Commons.

The special civilian constabulary of London has been notified to hold itself in readiness to assist the regular police should the necessity arise. Every fire station has been circulated to the effect that all doors except the main entrances must be locked at dusk and that strangers entering must be closely questioned. There was a rush today by property owners for insurance, especially in the stockyard district.

U. R. Transfers to Be Only Half as Long After Today

BEGINNING tomorrow, United Railways transfers will be only half as long as they have been before, but they will carry passengers just as far as ever.

Single transfers will be 2 1/2 by 2 inches instead of 5 by 2 inches. Double ones will be 5 by 2 inches instead of 10 by 2, and they will be perforated in the middle instead of folded, the two ends being numbered 1 and 2.

The company gives away about 600,000 transfers a day, and the reduction in the size means the saving of $10,000 a year in cost of paper.

DR. ALBERT SAYS HE GAVE RUMELY $750,000

Former German Fiscal Agent's Deposition Read at Trial
at New York.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—At the resumption today before Judge William T. Grubb and a jury in the United States District Court of the trial of Edward A. Rumely, Norval R. Lindheim and S. Walter Kauffmann, charged with withholding from the Allen Property Custodian information regarding the alleged German ownership of the Evening Mail during a part of the war, Harold Harper, special United States attorney, took the stand and read a deposition made by Dr. Heinrich Albert, former German fiscal agent, when he interrogated him in Germany in August, 1919.

Dr. Albert, in the deposition, said that he gave Rumely $750,000 as an initial payment on a loan for the purpose of acquiring stock of the Evening Mail.

The money, which Dr. Albert said was taken from his own funds from various sources was paid to Dr. Rumely following authorization of Dr. Bernhard Dernberg, who informed him that the money was advanced by Herman Siecken, an American coffee merchant residing in Germany, and that Dr. Albert was to take the amount out of his funds.

Dr. Dernberg, Dr. Albert said, did not give him any note for the money he advanced. Dr. Albert said that he knew Dr. Dernberg to be a man of the highest type of honesty and veracity and that he would advance $2,000,000 without asking for a note if Dr. Dernberg said so.

Harper, in reading Dr. Albert's testimony, mentioned the name of Samuel Untermyer. According to Dr. Albert, Untermyer wrote to him Feb. 22, 1916, asking if Dr. Albert would take a minority interest in the Sun. Albert said he called to the German Foreign Office for advice on the matter. When asked if he wrote further to Untermyer, Albert answered, "I do not remember writing to Mr. Untermyer at the time."

Widow Trying to Have Sicklen Declared an American Citizen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Lucienne H. Boggs, general counsel for the Allen Property Custodian, was here today to discuss with Federal investigating officers the legal matters connected with the estate of Herman Siecken, known as a "coffee king," who died in Baden, Germany, several years ago. Boggs arrived last night.

Siecken's name recently was brought into testimony in the trial of Dr. Edward A. Rumely and others, accused of concealing alleged German ownership of the New York Evening Mail during the war.

Mrs. Clara Siecken, the widow, is seeking to have her husband declared an American citizen and thus, Government officials say, recover property valued at many millions seized by the Allen Property Custodian during the war. She asserts her husband was naturalized at an unknown place in California sometime between 1869 and 1877, and that his certificate of naturalization and other papers later were lost also. Her action is an effort to have this alleged citizenship made a matter of legal record.

'STATE OF INSURRECTION' SAID TO EXIST IN MINGO COUNTY, W. VA.

By the Associated Press.
WILLIAMSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 30.—Gov. John J. Cornwell of West Virginia today declared by official proclamation that "a state of insurrection exists" in the Mingo County region, where coal strikes have been in effect since July. The Federal Government has been asked to send troops to restore order and peace in the region, the document said.

The statement is dated Nov. 27 and has been posted at many points in Mingo County. Federal troops sent here at the request of the Governor because of the disorders of the last few weeks, still maintained headquarters in Williamson, but detachments in increasing number have been dispatched to mining villages where strike conditions were considered acute.

at Boston on One of 44 Indictments.

APPEARS IN A NEW SUIT, WEARS SPATS

"Thus Passes the Glory of the World," He Writes on a Card After Sentence Is Imposed.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Charles Ponzi, promoter of the quick rich scheme in which thousands of persons invested millions of dollars before he collapsed last August, pleaded guilty of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, in the Federal District Court today.

Sentence of five years in the Plymouth County Jail was imposed by Judge Hale. The Court took into consideration only the first count of one indictment of 44 counts, in which it was charged that Ponzi had represented falsely that he was able to pay interest at the rate of 50 per cent in 45 days from profits made in international postal coupons.

In Court in New Suit.
The little Italian, who, with prison sentences in Canada and this country behind him, developed his supposed scheme of exchange in international postal reply coupons to proportions that made him a marked figure in finance, appeared in court in a new suit, and wearing spats, stepped over him when the props of income from investors were pulled out, had an air of swagger when he faced the Court. He was the same dapper man who, in the next breath, stepped from the Cambridge jail this morning as in the days when he was the idol of the street crowds. A new tailored suit, smart cravat, handkerchief in breast pocket, and feet adorned with spats, made Ponzi again a man of presence.

As he faced another long prison sentence while his youthful wife sobbed on his shoulder, he penciled on a memorandum block his parting word to the public, "sic transit gloria mundi." (Thus passes the glory of the world!), and handed it to the press.

Lawyer's Plea for Him.
In arguing on the question of sentence, Daniel H. Coakley, senior counsel for Ponzi, told the court that it was only after advice from counsel and members of the financiers' family, that he agreed to retract his plea of "not guilty and plead guilty instead." Mr. Ponzi insisted, and still insists, that there was in his mind no intent to defraud anyone, his counsel declared.

When the defendant went up to the bench to plead guilty, he was emphatic when he said: "I do" to the clerk's question whether he wished to change his plea of not guilty, and was equally assertive when he made the plea of "guilty." He held forth in the next breath. Then Ponzi leaned over, resting his head on his arm, while he listened to his counsel's plea for a light sentence.

Ponzi will begin his sentence at the county jail in Plymouth with 85 counts of the Federal indictment against him on file, and with charges of larceny in many counts outstanding against him in the State courts. He is due also to face his creditors, of whom there are more than 11,000, on Dec. 8, when he will be subject to their interrogations as to what he did with the millions entrusted to him, of which his Federal receivers have been able to retrieve only a small part.

CHAUFFEUR HELD TO GRAND JURY IN DEATH OF WOMAN

Joseph Hucksold, Driver of Car That Struck Mrs. Belva Hodges, Charged With Criminal Carelessness.

WOMAN'S INJURIES RECEIVED SUNDAY

Witnesses Testified She Was Dragged 15 Feet After Being Struck; Man Not on Stand.

A Coroner's verdict of criminal carelessness was returned today in the case of Mrs. Belva Hodges, 26 years old, of 4375 Laclede avenue, who died at 3 p. m. yesterday at the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium from injuries suffered at 8 p. m. Sunday, when she was knocked down in front of her home by an automobile driven by Joseph Hucksold, 26, of 7701 Virginia avenue, a chauffeur. Hucksold was ordered held for the grand jury.

According to the testimony of Miss Frances Dent, also of the Laclede avenue address, she and Mrs. Hodges were crossing from the north to the south side of Laclede avenue to board a eastbound Laclede car, there being a carstop post in front of the Hodges home. Mrs. Hodges dropped her handbag and as she stooped to pick it up she was knocked down by the automobile, which was westbound on the same side of the street, and was dragged about 15 feet. Miss Dent said that the automobile proceeded about 100 feet after striking Mrs. Hodges before it was brought to a stop.

Her testimony was corroborated by William L. Friend of 15 South Taylor avenue and L. McClintock of 4361 Laclede avenue, both of whom witnessed the accident.

A Shannon of 1715 Preston place, who was riding with Hucksold, testified that the automobile was going at a moderate rate and was but a few feet from Mrs. Hodges when she stooped to pick up her bag. Hucksold did not testify.

500 WORKERS TO GIVE THEIR JOBS TO OTHERS FOR MONTH

"Golden Rule" Employees of Cincinnati Clothing Plant to Help Unemployed.

By the Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, Nov. 30.—The 500 employees of the Nash Clothing Manufacturing Co. in this city, which is operated on the "golden rule basis," today at a meeting decided voluntarily to surrender their jobs for a month, either January or February, in order to give work to the unemployed of other clothing factories.

Action was taken after Arthur Nash, president of the company, who was formerly a minister, had stated that clothing manufacturers were closing in all parts of the country and that thousands are being thrown out of employment. A committee of employees drew up the resolution in which they offer to make the sacrifice for others. They also agreed that it was necessary to reduce wages in order to bring down the prices of clothing and stimulate business, that those earning more than $5 a day would be the first to consent to a reduction.

Those indicted include the Hibbler Barnes, the Federal, the Carey, the Riddle, the Chattanooga Iron and Coal Corporation, Chattanooga Coal Co. and the United States Fuel Corporation.

The grand jury spent more than a week investigating the books and records of the defendants. Attorney Kennedy stated that one defendant had a contract with the State mines at $2.25 a ton and sold this convict coal today to be in a sinking condition. At that time she was unconscious.

FRIEND OF SCHMOLL, FIRED BY MOHRSTADT, GETS HOME IN PARK

Harry J. Jacobs, Discharged
Deputy Marshal, Appointed Keeper of Forest Park.

Harry J. Jacobs' political devotion to John Schmoll, Director of Public Welfare, has been rewarded with a job which will make Forest Park his front yard. He has been appointed keeper of Forest Park and as such will be privileged to make his home in the keeper's hands of which Schmoll was the hands of Schmoll and with the consent of Schmoll and with the consent of Schmoll and with the consent of Schmoll.

At the time of his dismissal Jacobs said his only "insubordination" had been political friendship for Schmoll, who was a candidate against Marshal Mohrstadt for nomination for Sheriff. He was an active supporter of Schmoll and was treasurer of the Thirteenth Ward Republican Club, of which Schmoll was president. Mohrstadt won the nomination and election, but Schmoll, as head of the department which controls the parks, still had it in his power to reward Jacobs. The appointment was made by Park Commissioner Hardie of the Reserve Board.

A companion, Alphonse Pieper, 26, a bank clerk, pleaded not guilty and will stand trial.

Reports from field agents of the prohibition enforcement office in East St. Louis said today that in raids made in the district yesterday, three arrests were made. Frank Clahon, a farmer near Witt, Ill., was arrested, and a still and 25 gallons of corn and the hide which would furnish leather for several pairs of shoes.

GREAT DISCONTENT ON WESTERN FARMS

Story Told of Grower Who Got $9.50 for Load of Corn and a Hide and Then Paid
$10 for Shoes.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Fearful lest the panic into which farmers have been thrown by falling prices will disrupt the whole agricultural industry and bring about a national food shortage, members of Congress from the farm states will hold a bi-partisan conference the latter part of this week and try to agree upon a program of emergency legislation to be passed at the December session, beginning next Monday.

A joint meeting will be held Thursday of the Senate and House Agriculture committees. The joint session was asked for today by the Senate committee, which held a special session to consider the question of relief.

Members just returned from the Western states declare that not in 25 years has there been such a feeling of unrest and even anger on the part of the farmers. Their resentment is being daily increased, it is said, through the fact that the losses they are suffering in their cattle, hogs and grain, raised at peak costs and now being sold at ruinous prices, are not being reflected in any commensurate reduction in the prices of things that the farmers have to buy. One of the big factors in the discontent, members say, is the tight credit situation growing out of the bankruptcy of Europe and the refusal of the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Board to extend extraordinary accommodations to the farmer to tide him over the crisis.

"Show-Down" Is Likely.

It looks as if there will be a "show-down" between Congress on the one hand and Secretary Houston and Mr. Harding of the Reserve Board on the other. These officials maintain that the Treasury is not attempting to force deflations and that as much credit is available today as a year ago for commercial purposes and for the farmer. Both are opposed to the extension of credits to Europe, such as members of Congress insist should be granted in order to build up a market for American farm surplus.

Numerous stories are being told by Congressmen to illustrate the plight in which the farmer finds himself. One farmer wrote of taking a load of 25 bushels of corn and a hide to market. He got $7.50 for the corn and $2 for the hide, and then had to pay $10 for a pair of shoes for his wife, or 50 cents more for his own shoes.

A few months ago a bushel of corn would buy four or five gallons of gasoline for a farmer's "filver" or tractor. Today the same bushel will buy only a little over a gallon.

According to Senator Capper of Kansas the unsettled conditions on the farms of that State have resulted in a decline in the number of hogs from 2,000,000 to 600,000 in less than two years. Similar decreases, it is said, have been shown in other states, and some members predicted that unless credit should be found for the farmers to permit them to stock up on hogs and cattle to feed on the present low-priced corn, the country would face a meat famine a few years hence.

From one state comes a report that the farmers, discouraged over their losses, and trying to realize what they could, were slaughtering three times the customary number of calves for veal. Such a condition, it was pointed out, portends trouble in the cattle industry.

Illustrating the tightness of credit, a member related that a farmer in his locality with 150 acres of land was unable to renew a $15 note at his bank.

Lower Bread Price Warranted.
Senator Capper asserted that the consumer was getting no approach to relief, and extraordinary credits provided by the Government for the sale of farm products in Europe.

"It isn't a question of working out," he said, "but of getting the Government to do it."

PRESIDENT AGREES TO PROFFER HIS PERSONAL MEDIATION IN ARMENIA

Accepts League's Invitation on Condition Principal Powers Will Support Him Morally and Diplomatically — Says He Cannot Employ Military Forces.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—President Wilson, in response to an invitation from the League of Nations Council, has agreed to use his good offices and to proffer his "personal mediation" to a representative he may designate "to end the hostilities that are now being waged against the Armenian people."

In accepting the league's invitation, the President, writing to President Paul Hymans, says he makes his offer upon assurances of "the moral and diplomatic support of the principal powers," and relies upon the League Council to suggest to him the "avenue through which his proffer should be conveyed and the parties to whom it should be addressed."

POLICE QUESTION COUPLE REPORTING LOSS OF $11,000

Man and Wife Who Said Money Disappeared When She Was Shopping Taken to Headquarters.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Police officers today questioned a man and his wife who reported the loss of $11,000 in cash and jewelry. The couple, who were taken to headquarters, were questioned about the loss of the money.

REPEAT STORY OF LOSS.

At headquarters Thompson gave his address as 201 West Fifty-third street, Kansas City, and his wife gave her address as 43 Trinity street, Winnipeg, Canada.

Thompson repeated his account of the theft of $11,000 from his wife's skirt. He said that he and his wife were in the Sonnenfeld store at 610 Washington avenue yesterday and his wife removed her skirt to try on dresses. The skirt, he said, was at first laid on a table in the fitting room, along with other garments.

After the skirt had lain on the table for awhile, he said, someone removed it to a table outside the fitting room. After the fitting, he said, the skirt was brought to his wife and it was found that the pocket which had contained the money was ripped open. At one time, he said, the skirt had been picked up from the floor and handled by a negro woman employee.

STORE DEFERS STATEMENT.

Leopold Ackerman, president of the Sonnenfeld company, today said the management of the store preferred not to make a statement at this time. Miss Stella Grace, saleswoman who waited on the Thompsons, said she remembered taking the skirt from a table in the fitting room and placing it on a table outside the fitting room. She did not notice that it had a sewed-up pocket.

Thompson said he recently sold some land in Canada and also had made some money selling jewelry. Detectives verified his statement that he recently deposited $10,000 with the National Bank of Commerce and $7,000 with the Central National Bank.

Thompson said that when he came to St. Louis he had $12,000 in cash. After banking $12,000 and giving his wife $11,000, he said, he had $2,000 in cash which he and his wife had intended to spend shopping.

The President says he is without authorization to "offer or employ the military forces of the United States in any project for the relief of Armenia" and that "any material contribution would require the authorization of Congress, which is not now in session and whose action I could not forecast."

The invitation to mediate in Armenia was extended to the President last week through Paul Hymans, president of the league assembly. Mr. Wilson already has consented to fix the boundary lines of Armenia and he now has before him special reports on that subject. There has been no indication, however, when he will complete this work.

WOUND PROFFER MEDIATION.

"I am without authorization to offer or employ the military forces of the United States in any project for the relief of Armenia, and any material contribution would require the authorization of the Congress, which is not now in session and whose action I could not forecast. I am willing, however, upon assurances of moral and diplomatic support of the principal Powers, and in a spirit of sympathetic response to the request of the Council of the League of Nations, to use my good offices and to proffer my personal mediation to a representative whom I may designate to end the hostilities that are now being waged against the Armenian people and to bring peace and accord to the contending parties, relying upon the Council of the League of Nations to suggest to me the avenues through which my proffer should be conveyed and the parties to whom it should be addressed."

LANDLORD FINED $50 FOR VIOLATING HEAT ORDINANCE

William J. Zeller, 3103 Washington avenue, was fined $50 and costs in Police Court today for failing to have a minimum temperature of 78 degrees maintained during the day in the apartment which he rents to Mrs. Thusema Asheim, 4703 McPherson avenue. The apartment is over the Zeller Bros. Catering Co., of which Zeller is president.

Mrs. Asheim occupies eight rooms as a residence and a sewing school. She said that when she complained to Zeller about the lack of heat he told her she could move if she didn't like it. She has a lease which does not expire until 1922, under which she pays $100 a month rent, she said.

BROTHER-IN-LAW OF WILSON DENIES TAKING SHIP BRIBE

R. W. Bolling Testifies Tuck- er Sands Paid Him $600 in House Transaction and $300 on Loan.

OFFERS TO SHOW HIS CHECKS AND RECORDS

Declares He Never Used His Influence in Obtaining Contracts—Explains One Company's Request.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A denial that he had ever taken money for influencing the disposition of contracts or machinery by the United States Shipping Board, as charged by T. K. Sands, former Washington banker, coupled with a request that all of his business transactions with Sands be investigated—"both for my own and my family's sake"
—was made before the Walsh Congressional Committee here today by R. W. Bolling, President Wilson's brother-in-law, and now treasurer of the Shipping Board.

Bolling told of business transactions with Sands dating back to 1916 and earlier years, out of which grew several financial transactions.
He told the committee that his personal records were all available to its inspection. Sands has testified that he received $40,000 from the Board's Shipping Board Corporation for "representing" it before the board, out of which he paid money to Bolling.

Bolling said after banking with the institution with which Sands was connected for several years he had taken a contract in 1916 to build a house for the banker, and in making a settlement for its cost with Mr. and Mrs. Sands had foregone any profits because of objection by the Sands to a charge for extras.

Cancelled $600 Charge.
"I volunteered to cancel my share
of this charge, which figure ($600) represented most of the profits I had expected to make on the entire transaction," Bolling said in his statement, "because of their unpleasant attitude. Mr. Sands agreed to this settlement and gave me his note for $600, which I indorsed and discounted."

"However, a short while afterward, Mr. Sands told me that he did not want me to lose any of my commissions for building the house, and that he had accepted this reduction only because his wife was very much worried. That he had cost more than they had originally planned and that he intended paying me the additional $600 above referred to."

"Early in 1918 Mr. Sands sent a Mr. Cranor to see me in regard to some machinery which was to be used in connection with construction of vessels. Mr. Cranor told me that the machinery in question was 'bending rolls' and was to have been shipped to his company from the far East, but at the last minute some other company succeeded in having the order changed and that this machinery would be diverted to them;
that a great injustice was being done to his (Mr. Cranor's) company. I knew nothing about the construction
division, so, in the presence of Mr.
Cranor, I called up Mr. Lester Sisler, who was then secretary of the Shipping Board, and explained the matter to him. He said he would look into it and subsequently told me that he found upon inquiry that the rolls had been promised to Mr. Cranor's company and would be shipped to them."

Received $600 From Sands.
A short time after this Mr. Sands told me that he had received from Sands, $1000 in connection with this transaction—though he now states that he has no recollection of the matter—and that he was going to accept nothing. He then mentioned the $600 which he still owed me in connection with the changes made in his house, saying that he had not forgotten it, and would pay it. I gave no thought as to what had Sands' relationship was to the principal, but looked upon him as the vice president of a large bank, and a man who was justly indebted to me. I therefore told him that I would be glad to have him pay what he owed me, but that it could in no way be connected with fees or commissions involving Government work —and this clearly understood. Upon my request he paid me subsequently the $600, as follows: Feb. 18, 1918, $300; June 26, 1918, $200, and Aug.
5, 1918, $100; I have no knowledge of where this money paid by Mr.
Sands came from.

"Mr. Sands also made me a loan of $200 on May 21, 1918, for which I gave him my note. This was repaid by me to him July 14, 1919, with interest, at which time Mr. Sands said he was unable to find my note. However, I have my canceled check bearing his indorsement. This represents every cent Mr. Sands has paid me since Dec. 31, 1917.

"Of the $40,000 which Mr. Sands says was paid for procuring contracts, I never heard until it was mentioned in anonymous letters containing threats that unless something was done to stop the proceedings of the Department of Justice

Remarkable Snapshot of Auto Race Accident
in Which Chevrolet and O'Donnell Were Killed

THIS reprint from the recording film in a movie camera focused on the scene at Los Angeles Thanksgiving day, shows Edward O'Donnell's car, which had been struck from behind by Chevrolet's while both were going in the same direction at speed in excess of 100 miles an hour, already turned over on the bowl-shaped track and plunging down to the bottom of the incline, where it turned over, pinning O'Donnell and his mechanic, Lyle Jolls, beneath the wreckage. Both were crushed, Jolls being killed instantly and O'Donnell dying the next day.

Chevrolet's car, seen in the photograph, still upright and on its course, is in fact, already out of the driving driver's control, as a second later it climbed to the top of the bowl, broke away several feet of the fence and then rolled over and over down the incline upon the wreckage of O'Donnell's car. Chevrolet was killed instantly, though the mechanic, Joseph Brennan, was not seriously hurt.

The accident was caused by Chevrolet's turning to the left to pass Joe Thomas, who was driving his car to the bowl's rim. O'Donnell was below Thomas and slightly ahead of him. In attempting to pass between them, Chevrolet went too far to the left and hit O'Donnell's rear right wheel.

which he stated that Mr. Sands gave me a check in his presence, I beg to say that statement is absolutely unqualifiedly false. I, therefore, most urgently request the committee to require Mr. Sands to immediately produce all of his checks made to me
since Jan. 1, 1918."

Bolling said that the committee would find available all the records addressed to W. G. McCauley, former Secretary of the Treasury,
and all other records in connection with the affair.

Bolling said he had nothing to do with awarding contracts or making payments in the Shipping Board,
that no one in the Shipping Board, Emergency Fleet Corporation or any outside organization had approached him in connection with contracts or payments in the Shipping Board.

Assistant Treasurer of Operations.
He said his position with the Shipping Board was "Assistant Treasurer of the division of operations."
He gave his age as 42.

In answer to questions, he said that he did not see Sands at any time during the "bending rolls incident."

He testified to having gone to Sands' hotel room in Washington, but did not recollect ever having been there alone with him. Once, he said, Mrs. Bolling and he had taken dinner with Mr. and Mrs.
Sands at the hotel. Bolling said the Shipping Board "gradually reduced its funds" in Sands' bank in the regular course of business.

He testified that in January, 1917,
he borrowed $7500 from Sands and later repaid this amount by mortgaging his home.

President Wilson's name again was brought into the inquiry when Bolling testified that frequently
during the first half of October, 1918, Sands requested him to intercede with the President in regard to the Federal indictment of Sands in connection with alleged violation of the banking laws. He identified his letter to Sands, previously introduced, in which he declined to intercede with either the President or the Department of Justice.

Said He Knew President.
He repeatedly refused these requests by Sands, he said, telling the petitioner that he knew President Wilson well enough to believe that the President would not even intercede for him (Bolling) were he in similar circumstances.

Sands was "half crazy with worry," and Mrs. Sands asked him in a telephone call to do that, saying that the president said, admitting that he yielded to a request to accompany Sands to see Senator Owen.
At the Senator's apartment, Sands said, Bolling testified, that he was being persecuted by the Senate and Bolling said he only stood by and listened, and said nothing to the Senator in Sands' behalf.

President Wilson did not hear of the allegations against his brother-in-law until he read Sands' testimony in the newspapers a week ago, the witness testified. Bolling said he himself first heard of them about last May, from John T. Meahan, formerly of the Shipping Board department of investigation.

Sands never threatened to involve him in the Downey shipbuilding matter, but did tell him that his name might be involved in Sands' trial on the charge of violating the banking laws, said the witness.

Two Companies Have Closed Leases on Quarters, C. of C. Man Tells Women's Ad Club.

Two Eastern manufacturing concerns are preparing to open branches in St. Louis, as a result of the municipal advertising campaign now being conducted by St. Louis, according to an announcement made yesterday by W. B. Weisenburger, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in an address before the Women's Advertising Club at the Hotel Statler.

The companies named in this connection are the Proctor Sole and Counter Co. of Haverhill, Mass., manufacturer of shoe findings, and the Eastern Tool Manufacturing Co. of Bloomfield, N. J. The Proctor company will open a branch at 121 North Ninth street. The location of the tool company branch has not been made public, but it is said to have closed a lease.

The municipal advertising plan includes the expenditure of $50,000 a year to advertise the commercial advantages of St. Louis in newspapers and trade journals.

ESCAPED FROM ARKANSAS PRISON

Prisoner Wanted as a Witness Found to Be Missing.

By the Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 30.—Clyde Campbell, supposed to be serving a sentence at the Arkansas penitentiary, did not appear as a witness at the hearing of a petition for a pardon for Dr. A. H. Housley of Hot Springs, last Saturday, because he has escaped from custody. It also became known that after being apprehended in Texas late Saturday and having an officer sent after him from here he escaped from Texas officers and has not been recaptured.

Dr. Housley is serving a sentence in the penitentiary, following his conviction on a charge of being implicated in the wholesale theft of motor cars in Little Rock. At the instance of friends of the doctor, Gov. Brough is conducting an investigation to determine whether the prisoner was the victim of a miscarriage of justice.

We carry the most delightful collection of Book-Ends, one of which will be bound to meet your requirements. There is the heavy bronze pair for the conservative room; the dull jade green for the room with an Oriental atmosphere; the vividly colored, striking ones for the room affecting the bizarre; and even quaint, flower-filled basket designs for the room reminiscent of Colonial days.

An Ounce of Prevention

"I ALWAYS expect to keep the children indoors the week after Christmas," says a resigned mother. "They invariably run around in their 'nighties' and catch cold on Christmas morning." Better see that Sonny has cuddly, warm bathrobe and slippers to put on before he pounces upon a bulging stocking. You could choose a bright pink or blue one and Sonny will be so entranced with the gorgeousness of his own little self that he won't take the robe off for anything.

LAUGHTER AND JAZZ ON ORPHEUM BILL

Joe Cook Reaches the One-Man Top of Two-Day Foolish Merriment.

Joe Cook, a young man who bills himself as "the one-man vaudeville show," has a whirlwind laugh-producing act on this week's bill at the Orpheum. Cook burlesques all of the well-known "filler" turns known to the two-day, and his patter and antics are irresistibly funny. He carries his own scenery and properties. As if a surfeit were not enough he blunders in on the act of the Alexander Brothers and Ecelyn, which follows his on the bill, and opens a bag of new tricks. As a fun merchant his like is not often seen.

Georgia Campbell and her company have a clever Southern plantation sketch called "Gone Are the Days," in which they sing old songs which were in vogue in Civil War days. Solly Ward and Marion May contribute a talky sketch en-itled "Babies." Nellie V. Nichols, sprightly singer and monologist, is back. As Roscoe Allen, a nimble jazz dancer, usual, her act goes over well, but is assisted by Kate Pullman and a tolecan has a wire act.

loses much of its effect because her songs are not new. As Roscoe Allen, a nimble jazz dancer, usual, her act goes over well, but is assisted by Kate Pullman and a tolecan has a wire act.

Give Your Feet a Fair Chance

WE believe in shoes that fit the feet—instead of making the feet fit them. That's why we recommend Educators—the shoes that "let the feet grow as they should." For Educators can never cause corns, bunions, callouses, ingrowing nails, fallen arches, etc.

Don't think that, just because Educators are broad-toed, they cannot be as attractive and good-looking as other shoes. For they are—good-looking and conservative, too. They wear long, besides.

Let us show you Educators.
Bring baby in, too—we have Educators especially made for little feet just beginning to toddle around.

ILLINOIS COAL MINER SWINDLED OUT OF $340

Three Men Work Confidence Game on Joseph Bassi of New Baden.

Joseph Bassi, a coal miner who had heard what a fine place St. Louis is, came over from New Baden, Ill., yesterday, with $340 and an ambition to sample the joys of life in a great city. Before the sun set he had lost both.

While he was standing at Twelfth and Morgan streets at noon, admiring the skyline, two strangers happened by and asked him how he liked the place. Joe said it suited him pretty good, and the strangers became chatty. Just then a third man passed, and as he did, a package fell from under his coat.

Package "Full of Money."
One of the two strangers picked it up, peeped inside, and registered amazement. "Holy smoke," he whispered. "It's full of money." Just then the third man came back, retracing his steps.

"Any of you gentlemen find a package?" he asked.

"No, indeed, never saw it," returned the upright soul who had it his inside coat pocket.

"By George, I hate to lose it," said the man. "It had a lot of money in it," and he moved on.

When he had gone the first stranger turned to his companion and Bassi. "I'm a square guy," he said,
"and the three of us will divide this money. I'm not the man to hog it all."

Bassi had seen enough by now to convince him that the stranger was absolutely honest, so when the second man suggested that Bassi and himself put up a little "security," Bassi promptly handed the first stranger his pocketbook, containing the $340.

Left With the Package.

The man, in turn, was so touched with Bassi's faith that he handed Bassi the package. "You keep it," he said impulsively. "We've got a little business down the street, and when we get back we'll divide the money."

Bassi waited. Some men might have been suspicious at the end of an hour, but Bassi was no such fleeting faith. Three hours passed before he decided to slip into an alley and take a look at the contents of the package.

It was filled with newspaper clippings, and Bassi sought a policeman.

8 MEN TAKEN IN RAID ON CLEMENS AV. HOME

C. V. Beck and Guests Arrested, Dice and Poker Chips Seized at 12:30 A. M.

The home of Clarence V. Beck, 34 years old, 6012 Clemens avenue, advertising manager of the Lumaghi Coal Co., was raided by Patrolman Pielecki of the Page Boulevard Station at 12:30 o'clock this morning, and Beck and seven friends were arrested and charged with gambling.

The policeman was patrolling his beat along Clemens avenue, when, according to his report, he heard "noises" in the Beck home. He rang the doorbell and Mrs. Beck opened the door. The officer walked in and upstairs.

On the third floor he entered the Beck billiard room and found Beck and his friends standing around a billiard table. On the table, according to Pielecki, were three $1 bills, dice and some poker chips.

Beck and his friends, who gave the following names and addresses, were arrested and charged with gambling: Clarence C. Sherrill, 27, 5311 Savoy Court; Press G. Kennett, 33, 1021 Yale avenue; Claud B. Martin, 812 Goodfellow avenue; Ernest L. May, 34, 3127 Fortis avenue; Eugene M. Collins, 48, 3824 Connecticut street; Clark Ryan, 22, 6181 Maple avenue; and Joseph T. Barlow, 4242 Shenandoah avenue.

MAN FOUND UNCONSCIOUS DIES

Woman Says He Appeared at Home and Asked for Room to Rest.

A man described as 50 years old, weighing 200 pounds and wearing a blue suit and a dark cap, died at the city hospital at 5 p. m. yesterday, a few hours after he had been found unconscious in a room at the home of Mrs. Mamie Fay, 1307 Chestnut street. Doctors said death apparently had resulted from apoplexy.

Mrs. Fay told the police the man visited the home shortly after 1 p. m., said he was ill and wanted a room in which to rest for a short time. She heard him moaning a short time later and found him on the floor and called the police. He never regained consciousness. There were no papers in his pockets.

BON-OPTO

Sharpens Vision

Soothes and heals the eyes and strengthens eyesight quickly, relieves inflammation in eyes and lids; sharpens vision and makes glasses unnecessary in many instances, says Doctor. Druggists refund your money if it fails.

Refrigeration and Meat

In less than an hour after an animal is dispatched in a Swift & Company packing plant, it is hanging up as meat in a room brought by refrigerating machinery to a temperature just above freezing.

From that time until it is in your own ice box—within two to three weeks—it is kept at the same temperature; first in the coolers at our packing plants; next on our refrigerator cars, more than 6,000 of which are constantly moving to market with their perishable cargoes; then in our refrigerator rooms at our branch selling houses; then in your dealer's ice box, and last in your own.

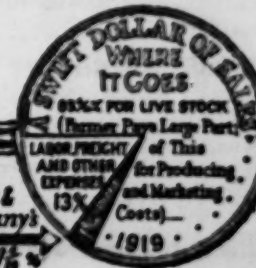

Only for the few minutes while it is being put into the refrigerator cars at our packing plants, or taken out of them at our branch houses, or whisked to your retailer in our trucks, is it exposed to any change of temperature.

Without a skilled use of this system of cooling, made possible by modern science, you could not get fresh meat, prepared under most sanitary conditions, except at greater expense—unless you happened to live so near live stock raising centers that your needs could be supplied from live stock raised near-by.

If the foregoing raises any question in the mind of the reader, we will endeavor to answer it, upon request.

PHYSICIAN KILLED
BY AGENT TRYING TO ARREST HIM

Dr. B. R. Woodyard, Who Was to Have Been Tried Here Today on Drug Charge, Slain in Little Rock.

Special to the Post-Dispatch, Nov. 30.—

Dr. B. R. Woodyard, a physician, was shot and fatally wounded at his home here early this morning, by A. L. Reed, a Deputy United States Marshal, who was attempting to arrest Woodyard on a warrant charging conspiracy to violate the Harrison anti-narcotic law, based on an indictment returned by the Federal grand jury in St. Louis. Woodyard died several hours later.

Reed and another officer who accompanied him said that Woodyard tried to draw a revolver when they were ordered to put up his hands. The physician kept tugging at the weapon trying to remove it. Reed fired one shot, the bullet penetrating Woodyard's stomach.

Dr. Woodyard Was to Have Been Tried Here Today.

Dr. Woodyard and Wheeler Haywood, a negro, also of Little Rock, were to have been tried in the United States District Court here today on a charge of having conspired to violate the Harrison law. A certified copy of the indictment against Wood-yard, based on circumstances which occurred here April 8 last, was sent to the United States Marshal at Little Rock two weeks ago with instructions to have Woodyard here for trial.

Haywood was arrested April 8 by Federal narcotic inspectors as he left the Merrell Drug Co., where he had ordered a quantity of morphine, cocaine and opium.

The Government charges that after Haywood came to St. Louis he received a letter from Woodyard, enclosing a blank order form for narcotics, and instructing the negro to "get what he could" and send Woodyard his "share."

The narcotic inspectors charge that Haywood had performed such missions for Woodyard before and that the arrangement was for Haywood, who they say is a user of opium, to keep the opium and send the morphine and cocaine to Woodyard.

Arrest of the negro April 8 came about through an employee of the Merrell company, who became suspicious of Haywood and telephoned to the narcotic inspectors.

Haywood had pleaded not guilty to the conspiracy charge and was to have been tried today.

E. PAPATHATH, PRESIDENT OF THE St. Louis Chapter, American Association of Engineers, announces that E. L. Brandt has been appointed permanent district secretary for St. Louis by the national board of directors. He was until lately assistant secretary in charge of the National Railroad Department. He will have charge of all the territory in the jurisdiction of the local chapter within a radius of 25 miles of St. Louis.

Obelisk Where Von Kluck Halted.
SENLEIS, France, Nov. 30.—In the hamlet of Louvres, a few kilometers south of here on the road to Paris, an obelisk some 12 feet high, surmounted by the statue of a French soldier, has just been unveiled. ### SUNDAY OBSERVANCE POLICY CONSIDERED

Evangelical Alliance of Pastors Names Committee to Report on Subject Jan. 31.

The policy to be pursued by the Evangelical Alliance, composed of pastors of St. Louis Protestant churches, toward the movement for stricter legal requirements in the observance of Sunday, will be decided by the Alliance at its meeting Jan. 31. A committee, named at the monthly meeting of the Alliance yesterday, will report on the subject at that time.

The members of the committee are the Rev. Dr. S. B. Campbell, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church; the Rev. Dr. D. C. MacLeod, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Dr. A. L. Koenke, district superintendent of the German Methodist Church; the Rev. Dr. S. H. Woodrow, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational Church; and the Rev. Dr. B. H. Bruner, pastor of the Hamilton Avenue Christian Church.

"Clean Up" Indorsed.
The alliance yesterday adopted a resolution indorsing the action of the Police Board and of Chief O'Brien to "clean up" St. Louis by more thorough law enforcement.

A resolution was also passed asking Arthur M. Hyde, Governor-elect, to consider for appointments to the Police and Election boards "only men of known fitness and integrity," and not to let the appointments to these positions be influenced by political considerations.

A resolution demanding greater safeguards about the sale of deadly weapons was passed, and it was decided to send copies not only to the Mayor and Governor, but to President Wilson. The resolution cited the "prevailing outlaws from one end of the land to the other—robberies, holdups, murders and crimes of the most shocking and horrible character."

The alliance referred to its advisory board the request of Mrs. Anna Sneed Cairns, head of Forest Park College, that the Legislature be asked to pass a law requiring daily Bible reading and the recitation of the Lord's Prayer or some other prayer, in the public schools.

WIFE SAYS MAN FIRED AT HER

Woman Asks for Arrest of Saloon-keeper Who Fled After Shooting.

Mrs. Jeanette Quinn, living at the New Lindell Hotel, 705 North Sixth street, last night asked the police to arrest her husband, Michael Quinn, proprietor of a saloon at 519 Market street, who, she said, had fired two shots at her from a revolver while she was behind the bar in the saloon at 7 p. m.

She said she was in charge of the place when her husband walked in and without a word pulled the weapon and started shooting. Both bullets, she said, went wild and Quinn disappeared almost immediately.

HOW POLICE AND U. S. AGENTS WILL ENFORCE DRY LAW

Former to Handle Saloon Cases Hereafter, While Federal Men Will Go After Operators of Stills.

With the State bond-day prohibition statute now in effect, the Federal prohibition enforcement officers will give their chief attention to the bigger violations of the Volstead act. They will leave the saloonkeepers, for the most part, to the city police, and will go after the smugglers of whiskey, the violators of the terms of wholesale permits, and the proprietors and makers of illicit stills.

Vapoe J. Higgins, special assistant Attorney-General, who has been in charge of the prosecution of Federal prohibition cases, said today that in future, cases which originate with the police and other local authorities would not be tried in the Federal Court here, as the State courts are now open to such cases.

Higgins was notified by telephone last night by a police official of the arrest of a man for transporting whiskey unlawfully. The police official said the man was being held for the Federal authorities. Higgins said the Federal authorities did not want the man, as the State courts could deal with his case.

Hereafter only persons arrested by the Federal enforcement officers will be tried in the Federal Court, and those arrested by the police will be taken to the local courts.

The State bond-day act became effective yesterday afternoon, when Gov. Gardner issued a proclamation declaring it so. It was enacted by the Legislature early in 1919, to become effective Jan. 16 last, but was prevented from taking effect then by the filing of referendum petitions. In the election Nov. 3 it was approved by the voters of the State by 61,393 majority.

The Constitution provides that an act approved in a referendum vote shall become effective upon the issuance of a proclamation by the Governor, declaring the fact of its passage.

HAYTIAN BOY TESTIFIES THAT HIS FATHER WAS BEATEN TO DEATH

Son of Man Alleged to Have Been Killed by Marine Appears Before Court of Inquiry.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Nov. 30.—Zabulos Garnier Jean, a student and son of Garnier Jean, whom Dorcas Williams, a Sergeant of Marines, is accused of having beaten to death last year, testified yesterday before the Court of Inquiry investigating the activities of American

Marines in Haiti that his father had been taken from a bed in which he was sleeping in his home, escorted to the gendarmerie office and killed without explanation.

The boy declared he followed, and was close enough to the office when the beating started, to hear his father cry, "What have I done? Why are you beating me?" he testified that the beating occurred immediately after a battle at Malsade.

Although the defense against the charge was not revealed, a question during cross-examination indicated that Garnier Jean was suspected of harboring bandits during the battle, or else was wounded in it and went to the gendarmerie office for medical help.

Williams, a strapping six-footer, who sat next to the frail and aged widow of his alleged victim, muttered sharp protests at part of the son's testimony, and was warned to be silent. The witness named the gendarmes who called for his father, and said it was by Williams' order. He denied that bandits had been about his father's house.

Signon Babot, a native gendarme who previously had testified against Williams, was recalled for cross-examination. He testified he saw Williams beating Garnier Jean, declaring the beating lasted two hours.

New low price levels for the products of American farms and mills mean cheaper interest rates. Under the State's order authorizing issuance and sale of this stock, to finance the growth of the Company's public service properties, each share must pay its owner 7% a year of cash dividends—$1.75 every three months—before any dividends can be paid on the Company's $11,000,000 of common stock.

PAGEANT SOCIETY HAS
FINE CHORAL PROGRAM
"Stabat Mater" and "The Bells" Rehearsed for Tonight's Performance.

The largest indoor chorus that St. Louis has had since the days of the old Choral Society will be heard in tonight's concert of the Pageant Choral Society at the Odeon. Frederick Fischer, director of the Pageant Choral, says his 180 or more singers compose a better singing organization than the Choral Symphony ever had, with its membership of 260. Most of the Pageant Choral are young people, and all are active singers.

At yesterday afternoon's final rehearsal, the singers and the augmented Symphony Orchestra filled the Odeon stage. The two musical works to be sung tonight were performed, following a rehearsal of the solo parts by the visiting soloists. The works are Rossini's "Stabat Mater" and Rachmaninoff's symphonic setting of Edgar Allan Poe's poem "The Bells."

Rossini Well Learned.
Most of the men singers, and many of the women, are employed downtown, and placed to managers and chief clerks, not all of them music lovers, had to be made, to enable the members of the chorus to assemble at 4 o'clock. "Stabat Mater" was sung first and the singers seemed so well acquainted with the reverential thirteenth century hymn as hardly to need the rehearsal.

The organ-like harmonies of the choral passages alternated with the rich tones of the basso, Fred Patton, in the recitatives, and led to the ever-thrilling soprano note which begins the "Inflammatus." There followed more swelling chords, and the long-drawn Amen.
"Now 'The Bells.'" Director Fischer announced, and immediately the singers buckled down to the really hard work. Beside this composition of the great-day Slavic master, the task set by Rossini was easy. The hard practicing already done was shown in the first and successful attack on the lines. "Hear the sledge with the bells—silver bells!"
Poe's Passages Music.
The orchestra, too, found no easy task in portraying the jingling and the tinkling, the rhyming and the chiming, the clamor and the clangor, the rolling and the tolling, the throbbing and the sobbing, the moaning and the groaning of the bells, as the imaginative Poe sounded them through his word-magic.

Idella Patterson is soprano soloist. Alma Beck contralto. Robert Quait tenor and Fred Patton bass. All are New York singers engaged for this concert. "The Bells" was a task that took their best efforts, as well as that of the chorus, and by the time the rehearsal was over, those living in distant parts of the city had occasion to worry about cold dinners. But no one seemed to mind. Community singing, which is the vital principle of the Pageant Choral, makes its devotees indifferent to occasional cold meals. The singers of the Pageant Choral, after the rehearsal, were enthusiastic in the belief that tonight's concert would be the best the chorus has given in its six years of existence.

ROW IN DANCE HALL CAUSES ARREST OF SAILOR AND BROTHER

Police Said Pair Were Making Good Threat to "Clean Place Out."

As a rule, St. Louis is not greatly troubled by sailors on shore leave, but that was the circumstance under which Frank Besselman, 28 years old, happened to be visiting his family at 1829 North Twenty-fifth street yesterday. He and his brother, Leo, 24, were arrested last night by policemen who were called to quell a row in a dance hall at Fourteenth and Benton streets.

In Police Court today, Frank said he met an old shipmate yesterday who had a bottle of grog on his hip and they exchanged reminiscences over the bottle while it lasted. That was all he remembered.

Policemen took up the story, however. When they arrived at the dance hall, they said, the Besselmans had the floor to themselves, having made good their reported threat to "clean the place out."

They were fined $10 each, but upon Frank's plea that he had to report for duty tonight, and had no money to pay the fine, Provisional Judge Matthews let him go. The Judge also told Leo that he had often heard that sailors on shore leave were dangerous company, and advised him to be careful in the future.

HELD ON SUSPICION UNDER LAW ON ARMY UNIFORM USE

Man in Soldier's Dress Arrested When Selling Periodicals; Another Taken to Custody

Allen Williams, 27 years old, of Los Angeles, stopping here at 2913 North Newstead avenue, and Charles Chason, 24, of Akron, O., who gave his local address as the Princess Hotel, Eighteenth and Chestnut streets, are held by the police for the United States District Attorney's office on suspicion of violating the law which prohibits the use of army uniforms for commercial purposes.

Williams, attired in a soldier's uniform, was selling a periodical called the A. E. F. Magazine, when arrested at Fourth and Pine streets last evening on complaint of John P. Streiff, 540 Pierce Building, who is identified with the American Legion.

When questioned by the police Williams said that he had been employed by Chason. The latter was arrested and admitted that he and three other former soldiers, including Williams, had been selling the magazine in St. Louis. He denied having made any misrepresentations. Chason was not wearing a uniform when arrested. Williams said that he was discharged from the army last May. Chason said that he left the army 18 months ago.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB WILL MOVE INTO NEW QUARTERS

To Add Legal Aid Department for Members; to Put Up 1500 Sign Posts in County

The Automobile Club of St. Louis, the membership of which has increased from 3500 to 12,000 and which is now making an effort to enroll a total membership of 50,000, has outgrown its present quarters in the Jefferson Hotel and has arranged for larger ones at the new United Motors Service Building, 3220 Locust street.

This will give the club a conveniently located club room and office, where the service departments of the organization will be in direct touch with the entire membership.

The club recently installed free emergency road service. Five stations have been opened and seven more are in immediate prospect. A legal aid department is to be opened for the benefit of members who become involved in litigation growing out of motor vehicle laws.

ASSISTANT MANAGER OF THE UNITED RAILWAYS CO. NAMED

R. J. Lockwood to Take Charge of Handling and Accounting of Supplies for the Receiver

Richard J. Lockwood, 38 years old, of 3710 Cates avenue, was appointed assistant manager of the United Railways Co. to Albert T. Perkins, manager, by Receiver Wells today. One of his duties will be to take charge of the handling and accounting of all supplies, and he will undertake the work at once.

He will have the office formerly occupied by Edwin D. Smith, chief engineer, who resigned recently, and which position has been abolished by the receiver, but the duties of that position have been rearranged for Lockwood. Perkins taking over a part of Smith's former work.

Lockwood was graduated from Washington University in 1904, served in the American army with the artillery and engineers, and has been recently vice president and manager of the Appalachian Railroad, in Florida.

FIREMAN SAYS WIFE EMBRACED CONDUCTOR, SUES FOR DIVORCE

Alleges That She Spent His $600, Left Him and Wrote for More Money

Patrick Murphy, a member of the Kirkwood Fire Department, wants a divorce from Mrs. Helen Murphy because, he says, she publicly embraced a conductor on the Meramec Highlands line all the way from Kirkwood to Marquette Highlands and back, and spent his $600 savings in extravagant living, for clothing and traveling and refused to keep house for him or cook his meals. He filed his petition at Clayton today.

They were married Sept. 28 and he says that on Nov. 29, after she had spent his $600, she left him, went to her parents at Covington, Mich., and wrote for more money.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Poor Little Rich Gas Co.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

How can a big corporation expect the people to pay for their improvements? They expect the public to pay for what they had to have done at all three of their plants this year. They had to have it done and the result was high cost of material. Now then, dear public, take your hands out of your pockets and let them get their pre-war price. Their gas bill reads 95 cents per 1000 feet, and still you're to believe you are getting it at 85 cents. Should you ask you will be told you get the difference back in a rebate on the gas bill. A year ago a person could get one ton of coke stored at all three plants along the river. There are none there now and won't be, for they have no trouble to dispose of it. Now coal has come down and so likewise will everything else. They don't pay much for labor and it's the cheapest operated concern of its size and kind from their north and northeastern plants in the North American Corporation. This bunk of $1.25 per 1000 is but a matter of getting between $1 or $1.15 per 1000 from the commission. It has been an everyday happening, not only here, but everywhere. How long must the public foot the bills and endure this condition?

THOMAS KAYLOR.

Gas Company Employee's Appeal.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

According to press reports certain of our city officials are in Jefferson City to protest against the granting of higher gas rates to the Laclede Gas Light Co. I would like to ask you in all fairness if the Laclede Gas Light Co. is not entitled to the same privileges as other business concerns who raised the cost of living out of sight during the war and after the war, and last, but not least, increased the wages of their employees, while the employees of the Laclede Gas Co. did not get their wages raised, but had to pay the increased cost of living. Now, we employees who remained loyal to our employers, the Laclede Gas Light Co., have been promised a 15 per cent increase in wages if the Public Service Commission grants them the increased gas rates. But if it is not granted our chances for increased wages will go up the creek, as the operating expenses of a public utility company such as the Laclede Gas Light Company are governed by the Public Service Commission.

We employees work day and night, seven days a week, 365 days a year. What would the housewife say if an employee would all take a night off some night and they would find themselves without gas some morning, or suppose we had a breakdown some night and did not repair the damage and let the public know? You would find that those who are loudest in their protest against granting the increase would be the first to howl. Just see what a nice thing it would be to be without gas for illuminating purposes some night or for cooking purposes some morning. Oh, but wouldn't it be a joy if you don't care what you say.

GAS COMPANY EMPLOYEE.

Laundry Prices.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In answer to C. R. Point, relative to laundry charges, I am obliged to state that he is in error when he writes that the sign for "Boy Wanted" has been changed from $15 per week to $10 per week. Ten dollars was the highest wage ever offered on that sign. He is also in error when he intimates that the girls' wages have been reduced. The cheapest girl that I have is $11 for five days' work. I am getting a better class of girls, however, and giving better service to the public than I was a year ago. It will be a great pleasure to me if Mr. C. R. Point will call and go over the situation with me and I will show him the payroll book and other expense books so that he may be qualified to give the public the facts.

J. ARTHUR ANDERSON.

Wilson's Labor Record.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I read in your latest edition where Maximilian Harden, the editor of the Zukunft, a German Progressive newspaper in Berlin, Germany, praises the spirit and work and thought of President Wilson, and rightly so. Every intelligent workman of this great America, no matter what his politics are, must concede the same thought as Max Harden. We're well satisfied or unsatisfied, all know that we got more under the Wilson administration than we did under any other. Was it not Wilson who advocated the system of employer and employee coming together in order to adjust grievances, so both sides could work in harmony and peace together by calling the Industrial Conference together in Washington a year ago, a step that has never been made by any President in this country before? Was it not Wilson who appointed the commission to settle the coal miners' strike and the railway men's wage question, and last, but not least, signed the Adamson eight-hour railroad law, and has a coal miner in his Cabinet for Secretary of Labor?

Now, my idea is that some day we working men will be wishing we had a Wilson for President, but it will be too late to wish. He will be dead and gone; only his spirit and thought will be in our minds, as Maximilian Harden says.

FRANK MUELLER.

A LONDON EDITOR ON IRELAND.

No criticism pronounced outside of England on British policy in Ireland, not even impassioned criticism pronounced by Irishmen themselves, has been as severe as that expressed by A. G. Gardiner, late editor of the London Daily News.

He declares that what is now being done in that unhappy island is "the greatest iniquity ever perpetrated in the name of the British Government"—a statement of such far-reaching scope that only those familiar with some former dark pages in British history would be equipped to enter dissent.

He says that not even during the most disastrous crises of the war did so heavy a shadow hang over the nation as hangs now. "Not since the corrupt days of George II," says Mr. Gardiner, "has Parliament been so degraded, so out of touch with the better minds of the country." Coming from one whose knowledge of the conduct of the English press must be accurate and extensive, his statement that the newspapers are under some hidden control devoted to propaganda misrepresenting Ireland is not to be ignored.

The obvious parallel between Cuba and Ireland rests on more than a series of superficial resemblances. In both islands, vital industrial interests were long sacrificed to a selfish element influential with the governing classes of a country asserting overlordship. Generations of the inhabitants of both were victims of crass misgovernment. In both, ruling officials, sometimes with good, sometimes with execrable intentions, alternately saddened the people and roused them to desperation by incredible blunders.

It may be significant that the British, experiencing the difficulty of subjugating an almost united people, as the Spanish experienced it in Cuba, have decided on the device of reconcentration camps, which is of evil memory not alone for Cuba but for the world. One reconcentration camp has already been established in Ireland. At any rate, it will be remembered that it was darkest just before dawn in Cuba—that a policy of reprisal and murder and starvation under the pretense of restoring law and order was the immediate prelude to the coming of perpetual relief. If the British Weyler has not yet appeared, several officials seem to be qualifying for his functions.

British junkerism seems just now to be having one of its most successful and least opposed innings. We do not need Mr. Gardiner to tell us that the junkers constitute only a small minority of the English and British people. We know that. We know the fine traditions of free government which originated among those people and which spread to all the world.

But we know, moreover, that the British junkers are high-placed and have always wielded an influence out of proportion to their numbers; that at what seems to be regularly recurring intervals in history, they gain the upper hand, and that during those intervals they regularly perpetrate acts that bring shame and scorn to the British name, cause a distrust and detestation which more representative ministries have found hard to remove, and give rise to most of the troubles from which the British nation has suffered. British junkers are not more to be tolerated than Spanish junkers and German junkers, whom they so closely resemble.

This present recrudescence of British junkerism is the more anachronistic and mystifying because it follows a great war of holy profession, in which it was hoped that junkerism everywhere would be wiped out forever.

The former German Crown Prince, it seems, was dead broke when he got to Holland two years ago. Millions of other Germans were merely dead.

THE "UNAVOIDABLE ACCIDENT."

The death of a boy, walking around the rear of a street car, was run down by a truck, seemingly comes under the head of unavoidable accidents. However, the statement was made before an engineering society in St. Louis last week that "there is no such thing as an unavoidable accident," the speaker maintaining that a car, under perfect control, can be stopped almost instantly.

Such control necessarily would mean a moderate rate of speed, together with the utmost vigilance on the part of the driver; such vigilance as would enable him to meet the emergency which confronted the driver of the truck at Ninth and Olive, when the boy darted from behind the street car into the path of the machine. Perhaps all this implies an impracticable degree of carelessness. Nevertheless, something approaching this kind of car management must be had if motor accidents are to be reduced.

Far from diminishing the number of motor accidents is increasing. In St. Louis the automobile fatalities of this year exceed those of last by more than 20 per cent, having reached the total of 105, despite the fact that the pedestrians, generally speaking, are exercising greater caution than ever. In the instance under discussion, the boy, of course, took a hazardous chance, and yet it may be wondered if he might not have escaped with nothing worse than a severe bruising had the truck driver been as alert and in as complete control of his truck as he might have been. The motor drivers must co-operate more zealously than they are now doing if serious accidents are to be reduced and drastic regulations avoided.

NEW COMPENSATION MOVEMENT.

Ambulance-chasing lawyers are charged with the defeat of the workmen's compensation bill in the referendum of Nov. 2. That is probably attributing too much to their influence, but the fact that their sympathies would naturally tend in one direction is a reason why the sympathies of other citizens ought to turn in the opposite direction. One thing the election undoubtedly did show was how essential to a measure of this kind is the united support of organized labor. An effort to end the division among union men and promote an agreement on a satisfactory compensation bill has been initiated under encouraging circumstances. It should be expedited in order to give results by the time the Legislature meets.

It would be deplorable if still another session should pass without compensation legislation or if a defective bill should be passed with provisions furnishing an excuse for again holding it up by referendum petitions.

THE FALLACY OF LOW WAGES.

A writer in Letters From the People to the Post-Dispatch says the object of the fight for the open shop is cheap labor. That there are employers who would reduce wages to the lowest possible level, if they could, cannot be questioned. It is also true that the destruction of unionism would enable them to do this, or, at least, make it easier. But such employers are a negligible minority.

It may be assumed that the majority of employers are intelligent, capable men. As such, they know that prosperity and low wages cannot exist side by side. Real prosperity, lasting prosperity, depends upon the capacity of the people to buy. That capacity can only obtain under the twin conditions of steady employment at good wages.

All this is trite. No less trite is the familiar fact, which, however, may pertinently be submitted, that the lowest-wage countries are notoriously impoverished and stagnant, while in the highest-wage countries are found the greatest prosperity and progress.

The employer whose notion of conducting business is the cheapest possible labor does not belong in modern industry. He belongs in a zoo. The sound economic formula of present-day industrialism is the highest possible wages compatible with reasonable profits and prices.

The man who used to buy silk shirts now engages us by purchasing eggs in half-dozen lots.

MR. HACKETT'S LATE ARRIVAL.

Mr. James K. Hackett, the American actor, is the "greatest Macbeth within living memory," according to a London newspaper, which offers this judgment as the critical consensus of that competent city. The privilege of witnessing this interpretation, we are told, is a "playgoing landmark in a man's life."

Americans of a generation that seldom attends the theater now, will find a good deal of satisfaction in Hackett's "arrival." They recall him as a man of distinction and an artist of real promise, who elegantly wasted golden days in the pinhead heroics of Anthony Hope and the goody-goodness of our own Winston Churchill's too-perfect Bayards. They wondered, with impatience, if the urge of a worthy ambition would not eventually weary him of his matinee-idol status.

The omnipotent hand of Shakespeare has guided Hackett into fame—in the late afternoon, to be sure. It is one more item in the unaccountable debt that we owe to the genius of Avon.

A Wisconsin town is selling milk for 10 cents a quart. Does that make our local dairymen feel like bootleggers?

ABOLISHING THE I. AND R.

The action of the Illinois constitutional convention in rejecting a proposal to include an article providing for the initiative and referendum in the new constitution may be pronounced reactionary, but, even so, it will not occasion any violent public criticism.

As a panacea, the initiative and referendum has failed. It has had a negligible effect on the character of legislation proposed or passed. Interests that trembled at the adoption of this measure have found their fears to have been groundless.

The experience of the initiative and referendum, in actual practice, goes to show that as a people we are too busy, or indifferent, to conduct our affairs on the plan of pure democracy. Faulty as our representative system is, it, nevertheless, is the best method yet devised for administering the business of government.

But, disappointing as the initiative and referendum has been, in concrete tests, it may have exercised a moral influence. In any event, it does place in the hands of the people the means of enacting desired laws, or repealing objectionable laws, provided the people will take the trouble to record their wishes. In view of that fact, some doubt may be entertained as to the wisdom of abolishing such provision.

MR. ANTWERP'S OPINION.

"JUDGING by what is going on in the world we would better set our own house in order and retire from the empire business," Mr. Antwerp said.

"The empire business is headed for the scrap heap. No other country is in trouble of such an enduring nature as England, and England has the greatest empire in history. It is surprising that at such a time the French, the Italians and the Greeks should aspire to empire as they are doing. They had better put their ears to the ground. The Greeks may be in better case than some of the others, since most of the territory they have annexed of late is heavily populated by Greek nationals. There cannot be many French nationals in Syria, nor are there many Italian nationals in the Levant."

"It looks as if Mr. Wilson, in enunciating the principle of self-determination, had pronounced the doom of that long era in which one great empire after another rose to power and influence. Nobody seriously imagines that such a thing is to occur again. Upon the contrary, disintegration has already set in, and it will gain impetus as the world turns its back upon the subjugation of the weak by the strong."

"We cannot hold the Philippines, Porto Rico or any other colony wishing to govern itself. The jig is up for that sort of thing. It needed only for someone to knock it into a cocked hat by expressing what the world has felt about it for some time. Mr. Wilson rendered that service when he spoke of self-determination."

"When slavery began disappearing most countries saw the inevitable and freed the slaves without a struggle. Our own case was exceptional. The wisest nations will surrender the colonies in which they are holding unwilling people captive, and the sooner they do it the less violent will be the explosion. Ireland is merely symptomatic. There will be other Irelands. Mr. Wilson started something just as sure as you are a foot high. The Republicans succeeded in getting rid of him, but the predatory Powers of this earth will never get rid of some of the things he said. If you could sit down on the woodpile and have a talk with the former Kaiser you would discover that getting rid of Mr. Wilson is the United States has given that one-time potentate very little comfort. So far as the purposes of empire were concerned, we got rid of Mr. Wilson too late. The damage had already been done. Empire is a dead cock in the pit, and the imperialists know it."

"We don't want to try to govern the Philippines, Porto Rico and goodness knows whom else we have brought under our flag in the last quarter of a century. We will be doing enough if we can make it possible for our consciences to live here with the Indians."

It would be interesting to know what the average national committee pays. The Republican National Committee in Missouri had some of the Lowden money to distribute, and he wrote $200,000 worth of life insurance for a Republican National Committee in Oklahoma who got shot the other day. They must live a hard, empty life.

Robinson: I hear the boss is going to employ woman bill collectors.

Jackett: Well, if woman is as good at collecting money for bills from other men as she is from her husband, the idea is a good one.

KEEPING MY SEAT IN THE STREET CAR.

"I'm what is known as a t. b. m.—Mostly I'm busy in my office all day pulling out miles of tape which inform me that Amalgamated Herring is on the decline and Peanuts Preferred is rallying. Along about 4:30 when I'm good and tired I close up the ranch and light out for home."

To make the trip as pleasant as possible I purchase a P. D. from Giuseppe on the corner. In order to outwit the mob of other t. b. m.'s—and we—I hike five blocks out of my way and catch the car as it turns, thus making sure of getting a seat."

Once seated I open up my paper and study the stock reports. Along about Tenth street some fat woman with a bunch of bundles will get on board and park on my Douglas. When I ignore her presence she glares at me as if I was a barbarian, her eyes flashing angrily: "You're no gentleman!" However, I stick to my seat. Any t. b. m. in my position knows why. A t. b. m. gets tired after a hard day and isn't in any humor to give up his seat in the street car to some fat, husky, healthy-looking bargain buff with a lot of bundles. A woman like that hasn't any business to go home on a street car any how; she ought to hire a delivery truck. So I refuse to stir. When I feel her weight on my shoes I'll say quietly but firmly: "Madam, I beg your august pardon, but you are standing on my feet."

The fat bargain buff will fetch me a look that would stop a clock and will indignantly move forward several places where she will talk in a stage whisper to some friend of hers about the rude man one sees in the street car.

About Seventeenth street another fat woman with more bundles and an umbrella will come in and she, too, gets on my steppers. Every time the car takes a lurch her umbrella misses my eye about a sixteenth of an inch, and I nearly get heart failure. She steadies herself by resting her hand on my hat, and when you're supporting 350 pounds on your head it's a sad occasion for the Kelly. This explains why my hat is always so disreputable. I've ceased buying new ones; it doesn't pay.

One day last week the usual fat lady came in and hopped on my 1920's. I ignored her, as usual. Then I heard a slight cough that sounded familiar. I was out of that seat in a fifth of a second. The woman was my wife. After this I always see who the passenger is who anchors near my seat. I find it safer.

CONDITIONS IN SPAIN.

Madrid Correspondent of Frankfurter Zeitung.

THE political situation in Spain is still in the most confusion, and the labor question is becoming increasingly acute. This applies not only to the old anarchist nest in Barcelona, where during the last 12 months more than 100 factory owners and superintendents have been assassinated by striking employees, but also to many other cities, like Valencia, Bilbao, Saragossa, Castellón, Seville, and elsewhere. Strife follows strike incessantly and bloody conflicts follow on the heels of other bloody conflicts. Although acts of violence are less common in Madrid, the animosity between the employees and employers is no less in that city than elsewhere. This strike movement is not limited to the towns but is sweeping throughout the country. Neither party is entirely free from blame in this ruinous struggle between capital and labor. But the men demand higher wages because the cost of living continues to rise. They would be entirely justified if their demands were within measure and a compliance with them were practically possible. But they demand impossibilities and at the same time are reducing their output. So we are living in a vicious circle. The general rise of prices stimulates the demand for higher wages, and higher wages raise prices. Some employers made immense profits during the war and they have not been wise enough to anticipate the success of the labor movement by timely concessions. They are demanding prices which are quite as unjustified as the high wages demanded by the working people. The same spirit prevails among the landowners, graziers, and fishing companies.

COMING AMERICAN THEATER.

From the Survey
A LIST of 46 plays, pantomimes and operas, ranging from "Antigone" to Shaw's "Pygmalion" and from "Carmen" to the "Jewels of the Madonna," and including such classics as "The Stoops to Conquer," "Cyrano de Bergerac," "As You Like It" (given out of doors), Hauptmann's "Sunken Bell," "Romeo and Juliet," "Hamlet" and "Delilah," has been produced by and for a small Colorado community.

Salida, under the inspiration of a doctor's wife, Mrs. Frank M. Cochems. Musicians and literary persons who have been in Salida say that the dramatic work of the women's club—prepared throughout the summer months—is by far the largest factor in welding this cosmopolitan community together. The women of Salida, most of them connected in one way or another with a big smelting works, represent almost every nationality that has exercised an influence in American life. During the past year nearly all of them have taken some part, however small, in one of the dramatic or operatic productions of the Woman's Club. The work started from small beginnings. The great majority of the people of Salida have known no professional actors or singers except those of small traveling companies which occasionally come to the town. The women who took the part of Marguerite in "Faust," for instance, have lived in Salida all her life except for one trip to Denver, 260 miles away, and she was a huge success.

The women of the club, certainly, must have been inspired with real enthusiasm. When grand opera came to Denver 19 of them bought season tickets for it at the highest prices, doing their own washing all during the winter to save money. Mrs. Cochems declares any personal honor "She is a striking example," writes a social worker, "of the community service spirit as carried out by people without organization, funds for overhead expenses or much of anything except personality and brains."

The plan of submitting names to candidates for election was planned by the Women Voters for the election, when the Mayor and 14 Aldermen will be elected. A committee will consider the names of candidates who will differ from the candidates for State Senate. Through publicity went campaign, the candidates for the election of the Court of Criminals for re-election.

MERCURY POISON KILLED GEORGIAN, INQUEST FINDING

Four Persons Now Held in Connection With Alleged Murder of F. H. Shepard,
"Peach King."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MACON, Ga., Nov. 26.—With four persons arrested on charges of murder and the intimation that another warrant is to be issued charging another with murder in the same connection, Solicitor-General Garrett of the Macon Superior Court Circuit, who is conducting the prosecution in the case of Fred D. Shepard, wealthy Fort Valley peach grower, who died according to a verdict of a coroner's jury, from the administering of bichloride of mercury, still keeps his silence as to what evidence he holds against those accused.

The first time at which any of this evidence is expected to be disclosed will be on Dec. 7, at the hearing which was ordered yesterday by Judge Mathews of the Superior Court as a result of the petition of counsel for Mrs. Ione Henry of Perry, two of those now under arrest charged with murdering Shepard, for his silence. Mrs. Henry is being held at her home with a special guard about the house while Hopson is in the Perry jail. Mrs. F. Eugene Elmer, wife of a Jacksonville, Fla., physician, and former wife of Shepard, is the other held on a charge of murder in the case and is in the Macon jail. Mrs. Henry is Mrs. Elmer's sister, while Hopson is a son of Mrs. Elmer by a former marriage. Mrs. Annie Cutts of Fitzgerald, Ga., wife of Elbridge Cutts, a lawyer, is the fourth person held in the case.

Petitions Demand Evidence.
That Garrett show why he is holding these three people on charges of murdering Shepard was demanded in the petition which was filed by counsel for Mrs. Henry and Hopson. Charles M. Durrance of Jacksonville, Fla., counsel for Mrs. Elmer, has filed his intention of filing a similar petition and it is expected that Garrett will be required to further reveal his cards when a hearing is held in the matter.

In the petition filed by Mrs. Henry's counsel it is set forth that no evidence even connecting Mrs. Henry and Hopson with the alleged murder of Shepard was given at the coroner's inquest held Saturday, which is the only official hearing to date.

Since her incarceration in the Macon jail Mrs. Elmer has repeatedly issued statements through Durrance to the effect that she believes that Shepard was not poisoned. Dr. P. Eugene Elmer, Mrs. Elmer's husband, arrived here yesterday and at once authorized an interview, in which he is quoted as declaring his belief in his wife's innocence of connection with Shepard's death.

New accusations were injected into the affair yesterday when a statement came out from Fred R. Crandall of Fort Valley, Ga., nephew of Shepard, who alleged that an attempt was made to poison him on the night of May 31 last, when he and Ernest Hopson, now under arrest, and Dr. M. S. Brown, the Shepard physician, brought Shepard to a Macon hospital suffering with the illness which resulted in his death early the following morning.

Crandall declared in his statement that on their arrival in Macon he asked Hopson for a drink and Hopson obtained a bottle of liquor from Shepard's automobile, and that he drank from this bottle. He says that a day later he was in bed suffering from dysentery and acute abdominal pains which characterized Shepard's fatal illness.

Turns Over $12,000.
Just before her arrest Saturday evening on the murder charge, Mrs. Elmer signed an agreement which turned over to the executor of the Shepard will, approximately $12,000 worth of property from the estate of Shepard, which she says is all that she possesses of the estate of Alfred Shepard, father of the man who is alleged to have been murdered. The principal item in this property was nearly $53,000 worth of stock in the Nichols-Shepard Co. of Battle Creek, Mich. Mrs. Elmer signed the agreement after she had accepted service in a suit in which she was required to either turn over this property or give bond in the sum of $120,000 for its safe-keeping. Her arrest followed the signing of the agreement, and just as she was leaving the office of L. L. Brown, the executor of the Shepard will.

The estate of Alfred Shepard, F. D. Shepard's father, was valued at three and a quarter millions of dollars, but at the death of Alfred Shepard, this fortune was to be divided among three heirs, one of whom was Fred D. Shepard. He was to receive one-third of this amount. Seeks to Collect $200,000.
Much has come to light in connection with the financial condition of the Shepard estate through the investigations of J. P. Roberts, special State tax investigator of Georgia. Roberts is here attempting to collect more than $200,000, which he claims as taxes on personal property which was not returned by Alfred Shepard during the last seven years of his life.

According to Roberts, Fred D. Shepard in the first apportionment of the Alfred Shepard estate, which is said to have been ordered on Nov. 14, 1919, received one-third of $675,000, which was distributed later among the three heirs. This is the only apportionment made, so far as is known, although there was much more which was to be distributed. Roberts maintains Alfred Shepard turned in no property for taxation in seven years, by claiming residence in 15 different states. He claimed Georgia as his residence.

RAIL UNIONS THREATEN TO
'SETTLE' DISPUTES THEMSELVES

Representatives Demand Establishment at Once of Agency to Hear Controversies.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Representatives of the 18 organized railway labor unions yesterday asked the Railway Labor Board to find some plan through which differences between the roads and their employees, other than wage disputes, could be settled. The union heads declared unless some satisfactory plan forthcoming immediately the men would "take the settlement of disputes in their own hands."

During Federal control of the railroad disputes which did not involve wage agreements were settled by boards of adjustment known as number 1, 2 and 3. These boards went out of existence when the roads were returned to private ownership and the employees want them re-established.

The railroads contended, when the matter came up in a recent wage hearing before the board, that the board had power to deal only with wage questions and that consequently it could not rule on other differences. The board took the plea of the employees under advisement.

What Doctors do for their own sore throats

"I want to congratulate you, Doctor, on the great success I hear you are having with your throat cases. I myself have attacks of inflamed throat every winter, can't seem to get rid of them. Wish you would take a look at mine and tell me what to do."

"I guess, Doctor, I will have to introduce you to Formamint. Here's a real good throat antiseptic with which you will keep the soft tissues in an almost constant antiseptic bath, because you will find Formamint pleasant and convenient enough to use frequently. I find that the average patient will readily dissolve a Formamint tablet in his mouth every hour or so, and you know how hard it is to get them to use gargles or sprays consistently, even two or three times a day, especially children."

"Formamint tablets certainly relieve sore throats and are heading off a lot of tonsillitis for me, but I am even more interested in their prophylactic power, and so I am advising my patients to use them freely during the throat and influenza season to prevent infection."

Formamint is sold by all druggists. Any druggist will tell you how widely Formamint is recommended by throat specialists, physicians and dentists.

SPECIAL ELECTION DEC. 18 TO FILL ELDER'S SEAT IN SENATE

Resignation of Supreme Judge-Elect Announced by Gov. Gardner and Date Set.

Announcement by Gov. Gardner that he had accepted the resignation of Conway Elder, Supreme Judge-elect, as a member of the State Senate from the Thirty-second (St. Louis) District and had set Dec. 18 as the date on which a special election shall be held to fill the vacancy, brought from chairman of the Democratic and Republican City Committees this morning announcement that two nominees for the vacancy will be placed in the field, possibly tomorrow.

Committeemen from the wards, all or part of which are included in the district, will make the selection, but as neither Republicans nor Democrats have perfected the organization of a senatorial committee, the nominations will have to be called by the respective city chairmen.

Chairman Metzger of the Democratic City Committee said today that a Democrat would be nominated in the district, and that he would call a meeting of the committeemen concerned to be held at Democratic City headquarters in the Postoffice building at 4 p. m. tomorrow, to make the selection. He said he had no one in mind for the place. Chairman Strodtman of the Republican City Committee said he would announce later today when the Republican selection would be made. Harry W. Blodgett, former United States District Attorney, is favored by a number of Republicans for the place, though the eight committeemen lack much of being united in their views. Elder, Republican, was elected two years ago by about 2200 over James C. Jones, Democrat.

EUROPE'S MOST BEAUTIFUL RED CROSS NURSE SUE FOR DIVORCE

Alleged That Russian Princess' First Husband Supposedly Dead, Is Living in New York.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 30.—Capt. Wallace Schutz, engineer of Milwaukee and Green Bay, who a few months ago married a Russian Princess, Nadejda Troubetzky, said to be the most beautiful Red Cross nurse in Europe, has filed a complaint for divorce at Green Bay, it became known here today.

The action for divorce is based on the accusation that the Princess has a former husband, Victor A. Turbin, at one time an officer in the Imperial Russian Guard, credited with being dead, but who is now discovered to be alive and residing in New York State.

The plaintiff recites in his complaint that no divorce decrees have ever been awarded the Princess. Capt. Schutz requests the court to render a judgment in his favor and to refuse all claims of his wife to share in his personal estate.

Who Speaks with Authority about Underwear

WHEN the business man buys anything, he usually knows pretty well who stands back of the thing he is buying.

Why not an authoritative standard in underwear?

Why the waste of time—the feeling of insecurity—the necessity for picking his kind of underwear out of a mixture of odd lots and brands and qualities?

He knows what he wants—full size, full length, the right weight for the season of the year. Authenticated as to quality, make and finish. The same today as a year ago—with the certainty of getting the same grade again any time he wants it.

The merchant who means to give him this high type of underwear service can do it even more easily than he can stock up his mixed brands.

He can order direct from the mills—"Allen A," that celebrated Cooper's-Bennington Spring Needle Underwear, with its thirty years of established reputation. Uniform quality—dependable value. For men—for boys.

This is the Best and Cheapest Food

THERE is no more delicious food than rice. Cook it so that each grain swells to tender plumpness—so that every flake stands alone. Then eat it as you do potatoes with gravy poured over it, or golden butter melting through it.

Serve rice as a vegetable with all kinds of meat, fish and poultry. Bake it with chopped meats—it's a meal by itself. With sugar and cream, it can't be equaled as a breakfast cereal.

Eat rice every day—you'll enjoy it. And you will save money, too. For rice is the most economical food. A cupful makes enough for a family of five. None is ever wasted. Leftover rice can be made into a large variety of tasty dishes. There are over three hundred delightful ways to prepare it.

You Will Like this Master Recipe

From the southland, where rice is a famous dish, comes this splendid recipe. It is so easy to cook rice this way, that anyone can successfully do so the first time they try by following the directions.

Wash rice thoroughly in a strainer. Use a deep porcelain or agate-ware kettle. To four cups of boiling water add one level teaspoonful of salt. Then add one cup of washed rice so slowly that water continues to boil. Lift rice occasionally with fork, and shake kettle so that no kernels stick to bottom. But—this is important—never stir the rice. Boil twenty minutes. Then pour water off, if any, and place in open oven where it will finish swelling without burning. Each grain will stand alone, plump, tender and delicious.

Consult any standard cook book for a number of excellent recipes for rice. Here are a few others.

RICE WITH TOMATOES

Wash a cup of rice, dry on stove, fry in one tablespoonful of hot lard and when light brown stir in one finely-chopped onion, fry 10 minutes, next add a tablespoonful tomato paste, chopped garlic, parsley, pepper and salt; cover with hot water, cook slowly, never stirring. Sausage cut in small pieces or chicken giblets may be added.

JAMBALAYA

Cut a piece of fresh beef, veal, lamb, or pork (a pound) into pieces an inch square and chop two or three onions fine. Put a large tablespoonful of sweet lard into a deep sauce pan. When hot add the chopped pork with the onions and let them brown, stirring for five minutes, then add about the same amount of chopped ham as you have of pork, and a quarter pound of chopped Vienna sausage. Next add the herbs, a bay leaf, a little parsley, two cloves with a saltspoon of salt and brown a few minutes longer. When all are nicely browned add two quarts of hot soup-stock or hot water. Let it cook about ten minutes; when boiling add a cup of rice washed and dried. Let boil until the rice is tender, stirring frequently to keep from burning. Season with salt, cayenne, and tobacco or chili sauce. Serve very hot in bowls or on plates.

FRIED RICE CROQUETTES

One cup of boiled rice, one teaspoonful of melted butter, one egg beaten lightly, one teaspoonful of sugar and half as much salt, and enough milk to make it into a stiff paste. Flour hands and make the mixture into balls, dip into beaten egg and then into flour or cracker crumbs and fry in hot sweet lard. Drain on paper and serve.

FAVORS DEVELOPING CHEMICAL WAR SERVICE

Chief of Army Branch Files Annual Report With Secretary Baker.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Declaring that the world war demonstrated that an "enemy bent on aggression cannot be trusted to live up to any set rules for war," Brigadier-General Amos A. Fries, Chief of the Chemical Warfare Service of the army, in his annual report to Secretary Baker
today, asserts that the development of this branch of the United States Army to a point "where it is impossible for any nation to go further,"
will do much toward deterring other nations from "forcing" hostilities against the United States.

This country is in a position to manufacture and deliver on the field of battle more chemicals than any other nation or group of nations, says Gen. Fries, adding that "the United States has wisely decided to continue the Chemical Warfare Service with sufficient powers and funds to develop its possibilities, not for aggression, but to insure that if American boys must ever again shoulder arms in defense of the liberty of their country they will do so on an equal footing with any other nation so far as chemical warfare is concerned."

During the past year the service has conducted experiments of great value in the production of new gas
and chemical instruments of war,
the report says, and has effected a close liaison with chemists and chemical societies in civil life.

All formal war contracts of the service have been settled and informal contracts are more than 98 per cent liquidated, the report asserts.
Of the formal contracts, 1214 have been settled for slightly more than $287,000, a saving to the Government of more than $6,000,000. The salvage and sales section of the service disposed of plants and materials representing an expenditure of nearly $7,500,000, the report said, the sales averaging 27 per cent of the cost price.

KANSAS CITY DETECTIVE FIRED

Alleged Slayer of Girl Escaped From Him on Train.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 30.—The Board of Police Commissioners has dismissed from service E. B. Beasley, a city detective who was in charge of Denzel Chester when Chester escaped from a train near Broken Bow,
Kan., while being returned to Kansas City from Great Falls, Mont., to answer a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Miss Florence
Horton, a local society girl.

The board also revoked the license
of the local branch of the Midnight
Secret Service, a private detective agency that brought about the capture of Chester at Great Falls, and canceled all special police commis-were assisting Beasley in returning Chester.

SHOT WHEN TEACHING BOYS TO USE RIFLE

Probationary Accidentally Wounded at School House—
Boy Absolved of Blame.

August Martin, 25 years old, of 4116 Wall street, a probation officer attached to the Juvenile Court, was shot in the abdomen and seriously wounded last night while teaching a class of boys in the use of the rifle at a range at the Grace Holy Cross school house, 2601 North Eleventh street. He was taken to the city hospital.

Policemen reported Martin was arranging a target when a 22-caliber rifle was accidentally discharged
while being handled by Albert Sap-pington, 13 years old, of 2415 North Thirteenth street, one of the boys in the class. The bullet struck Martin as he was leaving the target.

The Rev. Carl R. Taylor, pastor of the church, who was at the range, ministered to Martin and had him removed to the hospital. Sappington was absolved from blame.

Well-iced is the only proper place for store perishables, until consumed. It is convenient and a protection to food and health.

An outside window box or window sill is not safe, as dust, soot and germs are liable to settle on the food through loose covers. Besides, it is subject to the sudden changes in outside temperatures.

Wintry blasts striking the over-warm face of the housewife as she reaches for food accounts for many coughs and colds. The discomfort and danger caused by such unnecessary exposure, moreover the cost of drugs and physician's calls, are often greater than the cost of a whole year's ice supply.

BANK EMPLOYEE ARRESTED ON $5000 EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

Grand Rapids Assistant Cashier Said to Have Admitted Defalcations of $500,000.

By the Associated Press.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 30.—Fred French, assistant cashier of the City Trust and Savings Bank, was arrested late yesterday on a warrant charging embezzlement of $5000 from the bank's funds, following an alleged confession to defalcations estimated as high as $500,000.

French spent most of the day assisting officers of the institution in checking up his accounts. Until this work is completed, the exact amount of the shortage will not be known. Officers said accounts for 15 years would be rechecked.

Meanwhile the bank will continue operations, the State Banking Commissioner having approved the action of the directors who produced assets of nearly half a million dollars to cover the shortage.

The shortage in French's accounts, the officers said, was due to speculation in stocks and losses in industrial ventures.

Life for Slayer of Policeman.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 30.—Charles L. Simpson was sentenced to life imprisonment late yesterday by Judge E. E. Porterfield in Criminal Court here. Simpson pleaded guilty to a charge of murdering Frank S. Archer, motor cycle patrolman, the night of Oct. 14 last.

"That's where I belong," was Simpson's only comment on the verdict.

POLICE FIND WHISKY TO BLAME

Hyman Carson, 55, a grocer at 1837 Carr street, was taken to the city hospital at 7 o'clock last night by police after he was hit in the face and asked them to investigate his act that way before.

Policemen searched the grocery and reported they found in the basement a 2-gallon jug partly filled with illicit whisky. At the hospital doctors said Carson's ailment was "acute alcoholism." He was held for the Federal authorities.

I HAD my doubts,
ABOUT THAT restaurant,
IT LOOKED like the place WHERE THE Englishman
TOLD THE waiter to bring
A NEW bill of fare,
BECAUSE ON the one,
THAT HE HAD,
THE SAMPLES of food,
WERE SPOTTED against
THE WRONG names,
BUT I changed it,
AND ORDERED a plate
OF CHICKEN soup,
AND WHEN it came,
I TASTED it and then,
ASKED THE waiter,
"IS THIS chicken soup?"
AND HE came back
AT ME with this
"IF YOU can't tell,
WHETHER IT is or not,
WHAT'S IT matter,
IF IT isn't?"
WHICH WAS kinda hard,
TO FIGURE out,
BUT I guess he's right,
ALL THE same, nobody,
EVER QUESTIONS my taste,
IN CIGARETTES,
THEY JUST grab one,
LIGHT UP, smile and say,
"THEY SATISFY."

ONE sample from that clean, white Chesterfield package, and you'll put in a standing order. No guess-work about it—Chesterfields do satisfy! While we use only the finest, silkiest Turkish and the ripest, mellowest Domestic tobacco, it's the Chesterfield blend that does it. And that blend has 'em all stopped!
It can't be copied!

certain minor issues. Replogle Steel broke 6 1/2 points while the other steels were firm, thus emphasizing the appearance of bear experimenting.
The copper stocks were weaker, Chile standing out with a loss of over 2 points from last night's closing price.
At 12 the narrowness of the market is apparent. It is seen that while some 50,000 shares of Chile were sold in the first hour, Baldwin did not appear on the tape till 10:30, and Rock island not until 11:20. There was rather heavy selling of low-priced rallies such as Missouri, Kansas and Texas.
"The market lagged until early afternoon. New Haven then broke 2 1/2 points to a new low of 124, probably as a result of a disappointing earning statement. This unsettled the whole railroad list, losses of 1 to 2 points being common, with trading on an increased scale. The industrials also suffered, with the copper prominent.
Late in the afternoon Chile was down
4 1/2 points, and Replogle 2 1/2.
The general losses for the day ranged from 1 to 2 points. Money opened the day at 4 1/2 per cent and in the afternoon advanced to 7 per cent.
Exchange Fluctuations Small.
"Fluctuations in the European exchanges were confined within very narrow limits today. Sterling sold at 24 1/2, and a half cent covered the range of variation. The market seems to have settled into a rut, with small movements. In some quarters it is alluded that much of the recent export buying of commodities has been in futures and that the pressure of the dollar will compel later buyers to pay cash. The rate on Argentina was a trifle easier at 123.30.
Argentina cents per dollar, as compared with yesterday's sharp rally to 127.50. Brazil on the other hand, made another slight gain to 17.00 cents per milreis and London today speaks of the rumored loan to Brazil for $100 million. Silver made new lows on both sides of the Atlantic, selling for 43 1/2 cents in London and 43 1/2 cents for the foreign market at New York.
Chinese selling is mentioned as the cause of the break, which today amounted to 1/2 cent. At all events the quotation on the Hongkong dollar was carried down to 59.00
cents, as compared with the pre-war
price of 62.
Cotton made another good rally today, going from an opening of about 15 1/2 to around 16. Short covering by professionals was in evidence,
and news came of a rally in Liverpool and a sharp recovery in the United States. The market opened a cent and a half down at 15 1/2, advanced 3 1/2 cents and then fell back to yesterday's closing of 15 1/2. Trading was very active and mostly on professional account. Corn behaved similarly, settling down to 66 1/2 cents.
"Figures regarding October exports of certain groups of foodstuffs, cotton and oil, given out by the Department of Commerce today, show that of the total exports of $72,000,000,
these groups contributed $16,000,000,
and thus accounted for $7,000,000 of the corresponding month's year ago.
It is apparent that the grain movement began earlier this year, probably as a result of British preparations to anticipate the expected coal strike. Corn exports, at $91,000,000, showed an increase of one-half over last year.
Our constantly mounting shipments of mineral oil are emphasized by the fact that by October's value of $52,000,000,
an increase of $10,000,000 over the month
before and of 50 per cent over a year ago. Even with the extraordinary increase in coal exports, as a result of the European shortages, from a million tons a month before the war to over 4 million at present, the value of oil shipped still maintains its lead over coal.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

THE GLORY THAT WAS GREASE

When visitors in Athens,
A year or two ago,
Asked passers-by the reason why
The people shouted so,
And why the flags were waving
And why the bugles blared,
And everywhere a glad air
Was fulsomely displayed,
The Greeks would grin and answer,
"Our shouts and plaudits ring
And we are gay because today
We're chasing out the King!"

When visitors in Athens
Today ask why the crowd,
In bright array makes holiday
And shouts its cheers aloud,
And holds torchlight processions
With everyone in line,
And gets lit up when brims the cup
With good old Samian wine,
Some citizen will answer,
"Good news is on the wing.
Come on along and join the throng.
We're welcoming our King!"

There was a time that Athens
Had statesmanship to spare,
When Pericles, Demosthenes
And Socrates were there.
We hold with Mr. Byron
That in that ancient time
Of brains and art, to play a part
In Athens was sublime.
But though it still reposes
Upon the self-same spot,
From what we hear of it this year
The town's gone back a lot!

THEY NEVER DRINK IT UP—THE ONLY TIME THEY'RE SERVED.
The State of Maine is going to use its water to produce electricity. The people in the State have long suspected that all that water must be good for something.

A Slight Mistake.

"Do you know what day this is, John, dear?" she asked sweetly at the breakfast table.
Unpleasant recollections of previous memory lapses flashed through John's mind. He wouldn't be caught this time.
"Why, of course, my love! How could I possibly forget that this is our wedding anniversary?" he said, with gentle reproach.
"No, it isn't. That is three months ahead," she responded coldly. "This is the day on which you promised to take the afternoon off from the office and beat the rugs."—Detroit News.

He Was No Shrinking Flower.

A temperance lecturer displayed to his audience two geraniums. The first had been watered in the usual way. The other had been doused with alcohol and its foliage was shriveled and sparse, its stem twisted and its vitality decayed.
"Now, ladies and gentlemen," cried the lecturer, "what can you say to a demonstration like that?"
"It's all right, and if I were a geranium," said a skanky man at the back of the hall, "I'd stick to water; but, you see, I'm not a geranium."—Houston Post.

The Pop.

"They say the Hon. Gabe Cassaway has turned out to be a regular dude since he went to the Legislature," said a prominent resident of Straddle Ridge, Ark.
"Eh-yah!" was the reply. "I hear tell he wears a collar every day of the world and takes a bath Saturday night whether he's going to church the next day or not."—Kansas City Star.
